Ken Lee Named Director of Kelly's Spa at Mission Inn Hotel & Spa

RIVERSIDE, CA - January 30, 2012 - The Mission Inn Hotel & Spa announces the appointment of Ken Lee to the position of Spa Director of Kelly's Spa. The leading spa in Inland Southern California, the European-style, Tuscan-inspired spa oasis at the historic California landmark hotel is known for indulgent treatments and leading therapies sourced from around the globe.

Lee joins Kelly's Spa at The Mission Inn Hotel & Spa, just an hour east of Los Angeles, after tenures at several of the nation's leading destination spas at luxury resorts including the five-star Sea Island Resort in Sea Island, Ga., the JW Marriott Desert Springs Resort and most recently, Hotel Hershey in Hershey, Penn. where he served as assistant spa and fitness center director. In his new role as Spa Director, Lee will be responsible for developing new treatments and programs for the spa, overseeing the spa's staff, and managing the 7,000 square foot Kelly's Spa facility.

"With his experience at notable four-star and five-star spas across the US, we are confident Ken is the perfect individual to help affirm Kelly's Spa as one of the best spas in Inland Southern California," said Owners and Keepers of the Inn, Duane and Kelly Roberts. "Ken brings to Kelly's Spa a dynamic ability to direct luxury spa operations; knowledge of the latest in spa treatments, products and services; staff training and management skills; and a strong understanding of customer service."

In Lee's past roles, he has successfully managed revenues upward of $8.6 million, mentored more than 175 staff and maintained Forbes Five Star standards. Lee received a Bachelor of Science, Nursing and Business from Mount Saint Mary's College in Los Angeles, Calif. and a Bachelor of Arts, Theology and Organizational Psychology from Loma Linda University in Loma Linda, Calif.
