(RIVERSIDE, CA; Oct. 25, 2016)— The Mission Inn Hotel & Spa, the historic property in Riverside, California, placed fifth in “Top Hotels in Southern California” in Condé Nast Traveler’s 29th Annual Readers’ Choice Awards. As a show of gratitude to loyal guests, the hotel is offering a special “Good Things Come in 5” package featuring overnight deluxe accommodations, two Casey’s Cupcakes, a $25 credit (applicable to the gourmet dining outlets, Kelly’s boutique, or Kelly’s Spa), complimentary WiFi, and a specially-curated guide to the five best experiences on property starting at just $155 per night.

“We are honored and want to thank the readers of Condé Nast Traveler for bestowing such a tremendous distinction to our hotel,” said Owner and COO Kelly Roberts. “The award speaks to the uniqueness of our property and dedication of our staff to provide our guests with the utmost service.”

The Mission Inn Resort & Spa is an AAA Four Diamond property featuring 238 guest rooms, including 27 suites and 4 restaurants. The hotel also includes the award-winning Kelly’s Spa, a luxurious Tuscan-inspired spa, fitness center, and lush gardens. The historic hotel is situated on an entire city block of the quaint Mission Inn District of Riverside, CA. and features Mission-Revival style architecture inspired by the state’s 21 missions and is home a one-of-a-kind art collection.

The hotel is no stranger to accolades. They have previously been awarded a Condé Nast Traveler Readers’ Choice Award “Top 25 Southern California Hotels” in 2013 and were most recently voted “Best Historic Hotels in America” in USA Today’s 10Best 2016 Readers’ Choice Awards, among others. They have also been a National Historic Landmark since 1977 and are known nationally for their yearly Festival of Lights celebration—a six-week-long holiday extravaganza featuring more than 4.5 million holiday lights and 400 animated figures.
